

More Than One Way Home

Voodoo Circle

Story of my life, can't take it any more.
I feel it in my soul when I opened up the door.
I need reason to live, and a reason to die.
I can't take it, I can't cry no more
Oh baby, I just can't cry no more.
I got this feeling inside me, like a drifter all alone.

Trouble and strife.
Been searching for your tight, but it, keeps avoiding me
You really gotta know, that I need you in my life.
Now I need your company.
Cause I'm more than just a man, with a reason to live
And a reason to die but the clouds are rolling
Can't take any more, can't take any more, can you show me your door?

Now I know that I was so unfaithful
And I'm drowning in shame in my heart.
I can't take all this sorrow.
No I won't take it anymore.

I just can't cry no more.

Now your deep inside me.
And you've taken all my strength from me now baby
I can't hold on to any more of your lies.
I just can't, I just can't cry any more.
You really gotta know that I need you in my life
You know I need your company.

Cause I'm more than just a man, with a reason to live
And a reason to die but the clouds are rolling
Can't take any more, can't take any more, can you show me your door?

Now I know that I was so unfaithful
And I'm drowning in shame in my heart.
I can't take all this sorrow.
No I won't take it anymore.

I just can't cry no more.
