

Destinies to Come (Neon Dion)

W.A.S.P.

There's a new world
I see it, coming here after you
If you knew where
And when it was coming
Maybe you'd know
Know you're through
New world, it's all been changing
There's nothing you can do
It's a new time
Disciples arranging
The Pay-Per-View end of you

You were forewarned
I'd betray you for everything
That you'd do
You're leaving this world
Don't let me stop
Your destruction of you

Could you do more

Oh, if only someone
Ever loved you
you could've been someone
The world's waiting
Oh, testament of your truth

New day
A new world is coming
No Resurrection's due
Oh, well give'em tickets
To the crucifixion
Oh, the last of you

Goodbye my Neon Dion my Darkness
My Neon God of Eden's so blind
Because I wish away all of your sorrows
I wash my hands of your life
Ain't nothing that can change a thing
Nothing can blame your death to be Nothing can change our destinies
To come
Destinies to come
Destinies to come
