Thunder Red

There's a creature coming born Of your pagan blessed There is thunder coming down Around your head Ride the fire now momma Thunder's come again A soul to flame and rain down on ya Red rider said

The hills are running red Better hide under your bed Hide your children mother Thunder red The hills are turning red Get on you knees and beg Thunder red's a-coming Thunder red

You're reaping nothing more Than your shamelessness Then sew it all together When he comes Ride it down now momma Fire's come again Come to claim the souls to blame and Riding off with them

The hills are running red Better hide under your bed Hide your children mother Thunder red The hills are turning red Get on you knees and beg Thunder red's a-coming To get you red

Fathers and nuns, nowhere to run Four horseman riding on the wind Momma hide your sons Daddy get your gun Four hooves of thunder's come again Oh, run red

Red thunder's coming home For your blamelessness And rolling you forever in your dust Ride the fire now momma Thunder's come again Ain't no time to hide and cry, get On your knees and beg
