Theres a guide to take me home Led me through the night Stood against the storm And taught me pride Did they weigh you down Did they boil the salt Did they mess you up In your fancy loft baby Theres a smile that broke my heart That sparkles in your eyes Your falling apart Now your living lies Did they change the rules Without telling you? What a suprise Who needs who now baby Take a break and come down Take a chance and start Take a look in the mirror Take the pill to wake up Take a break and come down Take a chance and start Take a look in the mirror Take the pill to wake up Wake up

Theres a spirit of our youth Wont solves your thoughts Used to care about truth And fight against the odds Did they make you trade The dreams of old Did they tell you It was cool to be cold baby Theres a light that you once shown Clouded you la don ?? Everything is lone And everybody is gone Was life rough on you Did it fit no more As we fibbin you to my dorm ?? Now baby

Take a break and come down
Take a chance and start
Take a look in the mirror
Take the pill to wake up
