

Another Day, Another Idiot

Walls of Jericho

I wonder why
Every time I see you
You hold your head up high

So surface,
So obvious,
You're holding nothing inside

You're a waste of time
I've had enough
Why don't I help you out
Cause I'm tired
Of choking down your mouth

Your shallow existence is tired and old

Now you don't have to call me out
That's something I'll proudly do on my own
I have a past, I've made mistakes
Love and lost, hurt a few in my time
I've made some promises
With remorse I fell back on my words
I have only had regrets
If there was no lesson to be learned

And I won't forget the disasters I've counted on most
And I won't let this self-destructive bomb explode

[Another Day, Another Idiot Lyrics on <http://www.lyricsmania.com>]

These qualities are mine
I have a few unlike you
I work to be a better me
You're self righteous
What could you possibly say

Here's to my enemies
I wouldn't have it any other way
