You woke me from my sleep we quietly crept Outside This memory I'll keep of bitter crimson Winter sunrise lost in the icy silence Our warm breath fading in the air

I'm not sure why I tell you still less what I mean It's like a dream and maybe there's no cause But in the end it's What you can give to someone How you can help to set them free

Big world is turning as we dream tonight
Big world we've got so out of tune with you
Now we have to put it right
Big world help us through
Get us through the night

This world is wounded now and we inflict
The pain
We have to change our lives and think again
'cause in the end it's
All that we're sure we're made of
All that we know to set us free

Keep on rolling through the night 'cause the big world is never gonna let you down If we learn to treat her right
Then the big world is never gonna let us down
