

Common Ground

Wardrum

You need my burning eyes to see what you keep missing
While we're both trying hard to grow in our direction
Cause it's in you where I can see my dream's reflection
A single trail for both is all I keep on wishing

You told me a thousand times that life will keep on changing
And no one really knows if that would make us strangers
I know one thing for sure; in us I see no danger
Our thoughts encounter every time they're slowly ranging

All that you seek will soon be found
Now that we walk on common ground

I know there might be some behaviors that should mind us
But you must realize it cannot be that tragic
Cause when you give a smile I'm wrapped up in the magic
We've been through everything let's leave the pain behind us

Now lay beside me and we'll dream the night away
Breathe out the fire of our love like playful dragons
Let thoughts like endless trains to whistle out their way
With all decisions kept like secrets in their wagons

All that you seek will soon be found
Now that we walk on common ground
