

Parental

Wardrum

I know I'll never be
The one they want to see
It's no fact that I lack good will
The one they're looking for
I want to be no more
I got my own thing for real

The one I really feel

Injection of dreams is no affection,
We need no blood relation when choosing our own trail
Dreaming can't do without believing
I got my own winds breathing their hope into my sail

I know I'll never be
What might have set them free
I'm overtaking my own fears
The one they're looking for
I cannot be for sure
I have to wipe my own tears

That's what I really feel

Injection of dreams is no affection,
We need no blood relation when choosing our own trail
Dreaming can't do without believing
I got my own winds breathing their hope into my sail

Set me free, leave me alone, to my own world
I cannot be just a part of your play anymore

Injection of dreams is no affection,
We need no blood relation when choosing our own trail
Dreaming can't do without believing
I got my own winds breathing their hope into my sail