

Rainy Day

Wardrum

I can feel the rain coming down on my mood
On a Sunday noon where no thoughts are any good
And my heart aches way more than it should

I can feel the pain of a life left to strain
On the gleaming words of an old love song
And the weight grows on my eyebrows