I Rule the Ruins

There's a tattooed symbol underneath my sleeve An iron glove over a hand of steel You can't touch me Don't touch me

All for one and one for me Listen well and I'll set you free You can trust me For eternity

No promise Is honest In a world of change

I rule the ruins with passion and pain I rule the ruins Sinner or saint Fortune or fate

Alive and well in this livin' hell I survived it all, now it's time to tell Can you hear me Do you hear me

Once a tattered soul on bended knees With one hand to God, I felt the devil's breeze I begged help me Won't you rescue me

One promise dishonest And everything will change

There's a tattooed symbol underneath my sleeve Iron glove over a hand of steel I rule the ruins I rule the ruins

I rule the ruins With passion and pain I rule the ruins Sinner and saint I rule the ruins
