Goodbye

I'm sitting alone in the dark Holding on to the phone so hard Trying to understand What i hear T fear I'm hearing all the words And every word really hurts I'm thinking should i go Lay on the floor Before i fall So many years you filled my life And this you had to hide There is no more tears left to cry I just stare Nowhere There is nobody just like you No-one who made me love like i do You did it all more than twice That i fearedsix years I can still smell your skin Run my fingers through your hair Hear your laugh And i cry

Don't know Why he told a lie So i couldn't sat goodbye Don't knowwhy you made him lie Why you didn't sat goodbye?

You are still on my mind Sometimes not all the time I can see you and you smile With your eyes All lies Sometimes i love you just the same It's hard and with the same pain As in the crazy days I loved loving you Still do This is my goodbye... Warmen
