Wasted Penguinz

You know what everybody thinks, has nothing to do
With the dreams that I'm dreaming, cause I'm fighting for you
With the sense of control and no one to be told
All the things that I've said just don't matter no more

But if we could control what we do with our lives
It would never remain as this unborn surprise
Let's pretend we don't care, like we don't give a fuck
You just know it's a lie, it will end with a cry

You know what everybody thinks, has nothing to do
With the dreams that I'm dreaming, cause I'm fighting for you
With the sense of control and no one to be told
All the things that I've said just don't matter no more
