

wherever you are

Wave

Up and down this one way street
Black and white is all I see
For this moment time stood still
This illusion seems so real

But this will take sometime
And it leaves me wondering

Wherever you are was never this far
But I can feel you breathing
All that I need is just out of reach
Can you hear me calling

Free falling into the sky
Feeling weightless I close my eyes
I can't escape these lucid dreams
Cause nothing out there is as it seems

But this will take some time
And it leaves me wondering

Wherever you are was never this far
But I can feel you breathing
All that I need is just out of reach
Can you hear me calling

And I'm falling out.....
