I May Be Used (But Baby I Ain't Used Up)

Waylon Jennings

Well my baby you're a looker and I know what you're looking for You've been looking over, every man at the bar Honey, I know I've got a few years on you But if you're shopping around let me tell you a thing or two

Well I look a little rough and I got a few miles on me My body needs work and my style ain't what it used to be And honey I'll admit there's places where I'm wearing thin But I ain't broke down, I'm just gettin' broken in.

Well I may be worn, but baby I ain't worn out Let me take you for a ride and I'll show you what I'm talking a bout

I guarantee, there's a lot of me left to love Well I may be used but baby I ain't used up

I've been wrecked a few times and honey it shows I guess
There's been once or twice that you could say that I was reposs esed

There's one little thing that I think ought to be understood It ain't how you look, it's what you got under your hood

Well I may be worn, but baby I ain't worn out Let me take you for a ride and I'll show you what I'm talking a bout
