

The Same Old Lover Man

Waylon Jennings

I'm not some long lost someone
Just dropped in to say hello
I'm the same old lover man

Baby, lost so long ago
Cause I was born to believe
I never could deceive, believe me

I hear no children's voices
Have they gone back to school
It's the same old lover man

Baby, still actin' like some kinda fool
Yes, I was born to believe
I never could deceive, believe me

It's cold outside your window
Please let me in the night is wild
I'm the same old lover man
Baby, not some lonesome innocent child

Yes, I was born to bring a grief
Though I never was a thief
I'm the same old lover man
Baby, just dropped in to say what's new

Yes, I was born to bring a grief
I never could deceive, believe me
