

Just Never Say It Enough

Wayne Watson

If I called you every time that I think of you
The phone would be ringin' all day
I keep thinkin' that these feelings would mellow with time
But not yet, no way

We've had our shares of heartache and trouble
We can look back and laugh at it now
But a mystery keeps haunting me
How you hurt those you love most somehow

A real love expression is long overdue
Hear my confession of my love for you

I just never say it enough
So before it's too late and time's up
You're more than all I dreamed you'd be
An answered prayer, gift of God above
I just never say it enough

I believe God inhabits a human heart
I believe it more now than ever before
I see His reflection in you, in you
And I'm sure, I'm sure

But a real love expression is long overdue
Hear my confession of my love for you
