Chick Lit

We Are Scientists

I wouldn't be caught dead with your kind and all the hot-shot carrying on that you do. It's your only move.

I wanna see you all buried alive and I'll be up top carrying on over you, only for you.

I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again If after all we still have high hopes, and all is forgiven, if all is forgiven.

I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again

You know that we've got some axes to grind. We've got some sharp-tongue carrying on to do, it's your only move.

I wanna see you all buried alive and I'll be up top carrying on over you, only for you.

I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again If after all we still have high hopes, and all is forgiven, if all is forgiven.

I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again

I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again If after all we still have high hopes, and all is forgiven, if all is forgiven.
I asked you nicely once but I won't do that again again
