We Are Scientists

Falling over backwards for you
Falling over everybody else
I put myself in that position
Every single time I have the chance

I know it's not my business, to be Digging up these things I shouldn't know
But twenty years of bad decisions
Haven't taught me much at all

Separate events you're making
Everyone pretend it's not your fault
And all of this offence you're taking Doesn't really bother me at all

Twist my arm if that's the way you think you're gonna work this whole thing out
You know you own my body but don't think that you control my mouth

Having every question answered
Isn't gonna help at all? (3x)
Having every question answered
Doesn't help

When you're not supposed to know
You're not supposed to know
You're not supposed to know
Anything

Another textbook situation
Everything I think I know I've read
What's the point of medication?
Only makes me wish; that I were dead

It's pretty clear that you are me
It's written here on every single page
I'm smitten but not stupid
I can read it all over your face

Having every question answered
Isn't gonna help at all? (3x)
Having every question answered
Doesn't help

When you're not supposed to know
You're not supposed to know
You're not supposed to know
Anything

You're not supposed to know
Anything
