

I Was Born Ready, Baby

We Are The Emergency

All these words they fall and form a noose around my neck
And I know just how to break them
All these words they fall and form a noose around my neck
But I keep choking on regret.

Someone do me a favour please.
Make some room for me to breathe in here.
On your way out, burst my heart.

Come back here
Take my breath away.
You know I only ever felt this way with you.

My dreams keep me from waking
I keep wishing there was somewhere
In between where we could meet
But I'm afraid to fall asleep

Come back here
Take my breath away.
You know I only ever felt this way with you.
Open my eyes
I'm fighting
Without control
I'm losing hope

You're walking away.
So go back to the arms you thought were safe.
And I'll find an excuse,
But each time I get closer and closer to you.
And I'm out of time.
So I'll leave you this way.
And I can't explain
But it's not ok.

Come back here
Take my breath away.
You know I only ever felt this way with you.

Open my eyes
I'm fighting
Without control
I'm losing hope

And I can't explain...
I'm losing hope...
And I can't explain...
I'm losing hope...
