

The Jedis Are Going To Feel This One

We Are The Emergency

You can't see through these eyes,
And I won't question if I deserve this
The answer's much too hard to bear

It's like I'm watching myself when I'm with you,
And I can't recognise what I see
There is no visible doubt when I'm with you,
And I can't recognise what I see

I've got no weight attached to the soles of my feet
But no matter where we go from here you'll always feel like home
Pushing, pushing, I'm pushing further now

So take my hand and lead the way from here
Two souls aren't better off alone

It's like I'm watching myself when I'm with you,
And I can't recognise what I see
There is no visible doubt when I'm with you,
And I can't recognise what I see
Throwing caution towards the wind,
And it's blowing me away
