

I Will Stay

We Are the Fallen

Tonight I'm without you
The raindrops are falling
With candle light burning
For you I'll be waiting here

If all of our days have no more light
And all of our dreams are lost tonight
The stars can all fall and everything turn to grey
I will stay

Graceful and loving
Beautiful and soothing
Can't breath without you
There's no life without you here

If all of our days have no more light
And all of our dreams are lost tonight
The stars can all fall and everything turn to grey
I will stay

If all of our days have no more light
And all of our dreams are lost tonight
The stars can all fall and everything turn to grey

If all of our days have turned to night
And all of our dreams are lost and lies
The stars can all fall and everything turn to grey
I will stay
