Perfect Time

We Shot the Moon

You found a place between the lights Of yesterday I could not hide We can make it, if we only try We can make it.

And there you are in perfect time You're standing still You're hands in mine And I love you for who you are And I love you, just how you are

You are, you are the only one for me And you are, you are the only one for me I tried for years to get this right And I'm not about to lose this fight. To lose this fight

The longest mile I'll walk with you If your sky falls I'll pull you through And I love you, for who you are.
And I love you, stay who you are.

You are, you are the only one for me And you are, you are the only one for me I tried for years to get this right And I'm not about to lose this:

I don't have to write it down
I know that you'll be around
When the days are long the loves goes on
And everything that has gone wrong
Is brought into the light

You are, you are the only one for me And you are, you are the only one for me I tried for years to get this right And I'm not about to lose this fight. To lose this fight.
