Upon Waking She Found Herself A Cougar

We Shot the Moon

To rise is to fall At every turn there's another wall Is it truth or a lie? The more I see the more I hide.

And to live for tonight All these thoughts that I have inside In a dream there is peace Swinging gently in front of me

There's a day, there's a way to find just what I've been lookin g for In the sky I see light, there still is time now to get this rig ht

Step in and breathe out The cougar is weight that has kept me down To swim is to face the rising tide that will take my place.

There's a day, there's a way to find just what I've been lookin g for In the sky I see light, there still is time now to get this rig ht

It's all that I've been looking for Love through an open door It was all that I was looking for Your love through an open door.

There's a day, there's a way to find just what I've been lookin g for In the sky I see light, there still is time now to get this rig ht

There's a day, there's a way to find just what I've been lookin g for In the sky I see light, there still is time now to get this rig ht

It's all that I've been looking for Love through an open door It was all that I was looking for Your love through an open door.