

The Golden Eel

Ween

Sitting alone in the den watching the eel
Help me find my way home watching the eel
Burrows it's head in the sand, daylight has come
There shall be rest in a while, daylight has come

I can not repeal the words of the golden eel

Who can explain all these thoughts racking my mind
An endless barrage of shit racking my mind
The eel offered his help I can't understand
Speaking it's truth from the bank now I can see

I can not repeal the words of the golden eel
I can not repeal the words of the golden eel

I can not repeal the words of the golden eel
I can not reveal the words of the golden eel

I can not repeal the words of the golden eel
I can not reveal the words of the golden eel
