Blue And Alone

Weeping Willows

I saw your face in a dream last night A vision so bright and so clear Though you were lost in the city lights it felt as if you were here

In my dreams I hold you tight I wish that I never let go In my dreams I have no fright 'cause I'm no longer alone

We will never touch again I'm under a spell since you're gone We will never kiss again I'm under a curse and I'm done I feel so blue and alone

You hade fire in your eyes And magic was in your touch I want you back and I dispice that what I want is too much

In my dreams I hold you tight I wish that I never let go In my dreams I have no fright 'cause I'm no longer alone

We will never touch again I'm under a spell since you're gone We will never kiss again I'm under a curse and I'm done I feel so blue and alone
