

I'm Failing In Love

Weeping Willows

I saw you just the other night
I couldn't get you out of my sight
You got me inspired
I felt a desire
Underneath the dancefloor lights
Slowly but surely I found myself thinking
I'm falling in love again
You looked so young and full of life
I was so lonesome I could cry
And in my mind we
Shared the same taxi
Underneath the moonlit sky
Softly and poorly while I stand here drinking
Slowly but surely I find myself thinking
I'm failing in love again
Slowly...
I'm always failing in love again
Over and over again...
