

You're Happy Now

Weeping Willows

I ain't getting anywhere
Anywhere at all
I still drift from door to door
Me and my wayward soul
Walk down Sucker Street
I don't know what I'm looking for

You've found a world where you belong
And I know you're happy now
Every day your sky is blue
Every night I pray for you

I wasn't right for you
And you were wrong for me
But loneliness is a disease
I hope now time has healed
The wounds I gave to you
I didn't practice what I preached
