

Difference In Me

Westlife

There's something in the silence
I never used to feel
There's something about knowing
That tells you this is real
When you're close all I know I don't want to let you go

R: Hello happiness
Tell me where you've been
I missed the sound of your voice missed the touch of your skin
It's no secret I'm Not who I used to be Anyone can see
You're the difference in me
Oh the difference

I'm standing at your doorstep
Let me look into your eyes
We could strip away the secrets
Between you and me tonight

Won't you say it's OK
Let the world just fade away

R: Hello happiness...

Yeah the difference in me
The difference
When you're close all I know I don't want to let you go

R: Hello happiness...

Yeah the difference in me
Oh the difference
There's something in the silence I never used to feel