Don't Say It's Too Late

Westlife

It doesn't take much to learn when the bridges that you burn Leave you stranded feeling alone
It doesn't take much to cry when you're living in a lie And deceiving that someone who cares
If I could turn back the time
I would put you first in my life

And I would risk it all for you to prove my love is true I'll build a wall around my heart that would only break a part for you Can change the way I feel so tell me what's the deal
Don't say
Don't say it's too late

And now
The hills are getting hard to climb
I'm runnin' out of time
My decisions are pending on you And I will accept the blame for burnin' out the flame Hoping the story will twist once again
If I could turn back the time
I would put you first in my life

And I would risk it all for you
to prove my love is true
I'll build a wall around my heart
that would only break a part for you
Can change the way I feel
so tell me what's the deal
Don't say
Don't say it's too late

Now I'm
Layin' it all on the line
For you

And I would risk it all for you
to prove my love is true
I'll build a wall around my heart
that would only break a part for you
Can change the way I feel
Don't say
Don't say it's too late
