

What Do You Know

Wet Wet Wet

And easy come and easy go
When you're young you just don't know
What the world is gonna give you
And even though you give it up
Lose your way up to the top
You feel that life still owes you

You're chasing rainbows and you throw your heart away
You think you found it but you still don't know the way

What do you know? What do you know now?
When every single dream you ever had just turned to dust
What do you know? Can someone tell me what I need to know?

You feel the world has got you wrong
You feel your world has come undone
You see the wheels are coming off now
If I could only turn the page
If I could only stop the clock
If I could only see myself

I'm chasing rainbows and I threw my heart away
You think you found it but you still don't know the way

What do you know? What do you know now?
When every bit of information seems to bring you down
What do you know? Can someone tell me what I need to know?

Is it truth is it lies, do you love or despise
Someone tell me I just don't know
Am I rich, am I poor, am I happy or dour
Someone tell me I just don't know

Am I fast, am I slow, am I high, am I low
'Cos baby I just don't know
Say hello, say goodbye, do I live or I die
Someone tell me I just don't know

I just don't know

What do you know? What do you know now?
When every single dream you ever had just turned to stone
What do you know? Can someone tell me what I need to know?

What do you know now?
When every bit of information seems to bring you down
What do you know? Someone tell me what I need?

Someone tell me what I need?
Can someone tell me what I need to know?

Can someone really tell me now what I need to know?
Can someone really tell me now what I need to know?
Can someone really tell me now what I need to know?
Can someone really tell me and 'cos I needs to know?
