

The Truth

While She Sleeps

I'm gonna tell you straight, the only reason I have this is you

I didn't always tell you the truth, I didn't want to make your pain worse.

Did it work?

And it has been fifteen years, fifteen fucking years since I le t my guard down.

And I know exactly were to point the blame.

Please listen when i say....

You always gave us more than we deserve.

I'm gonna tell you straight, to you I have to prove nothing.

And If I could have, I would have bought all your roses.

When I stumbled you broke the fall.

You always gave us more than we deserved.

Youth and dependency dies away, but I will never forget the sac rifices you have made and will make.
