

Apostle Of Truth

Whiplash

Trust in this man, break bread with this man
Welcome me into your home with your wife and your children
Give me the shirt off your back as I plan my attack
Take for all that it's worth, I'm the villain

Devoted disciple of integrity
I am your task rehabilitate me
The calling has come, you're compelled to comply
You have the power to heal - my mind

Hold me to all that you own
Leave me there all alone
I will swear by my name to be loyal
I'll put the ease in your mind,
You'll return just to find
That your life has been taken from you

Devoted disciple of integrity
I am your task rehabilitate me
The calling has come, you're compelled to comply
You have the power to heal

Faith, hope and love seen better days
Loyalty and honour I've abandoned from my ways
Lies all lies, I admit I'm wrong
Feed me all your trust, but I will ignore

I need a saint to insure, He will help me to cure
The incurable cure - I'm a liar
I live my life as a thief, full of my own beliefs
Show me land where there is truth, I will follow

Devoted disciple of integrity
I am your task rehabilitate me
The calling has come, you're compelled to comply
You have the power to heal all lies

The lies
No more lies
No more lies
No more lies
No more lies
