

Tennessee Square

Whiskeytown

Red ribbons hang in a Tennessee square
Old people laughing and singing and dancing down there
I'd like to join 'em, I got no money to spare
So I sit here and watch from the porch
Drinkin whiskey in granddaddy's chair
Ferris wheel lights look like pictures I'd seen in a book somew here
Vacant parking lots across the street remind me I'm going nowhe re
I'd like to join 'em, I got no money to spare
So I sit here and I watch from the porch
Drinkin whiskey in granddaddy's chair
It's difficult to go on knowing you're out there somewhere Vacant parking lots across the street remind me I'm going nowhe
re