

You're The One

White Heart

I say there's wolves all around me
But they're dressed up pretty nice
Uptown hustlers, wheelers and dealers
And my soul is their price
In the airports, in the markets
They are even on t.v.
They are saying "we've got the answers"
But they will never set me free
I believe that you're the one
I believe that you're the one
Let them work their magic
For them it will be so tragic
They will soon, soon find out
That when it's said and done
They're setting suns
Well i know, one thing for certain
You will never ever change
Since the dawning of the ages
Your love has been the same
I believe that you're the one
I believe that you're the one
Let them work their magic
For them it will be so tragic
They will soon, soon find out
That when it's said and done
They're setting suns
I believe that you're the one
I believe that you're the one
