White Skull

Look at the sky now can your richness buy it all ? There's no price you can state or politicians to pay No million dollars spent And i raise my head and Look for happiness but I can't statr i can't stop I can't go i can't walk War is all around. You see you're living in wellness and freedom now But you think at once it will change All around leaving you astray And you raise your head and Look for happiness but I can't start i can't stop I can't go i can't walk War is all around.
