

Coming Home

Whitecross

I know I'm the one who did the wrong
The days are hard and the night is long
I'm trying to find my way back home

Standing outside in the pooring rain
Feeling so cold and alone again
I need to know if you're still by my side

I want to feel your embrace again
You're the only one I can call my friend
I'm coming home, back to where we began
The road is long, but I can get back again
Divided we fall, but together we stand
I'm coming home

There's only so much a man can take
Without forgiveness a heart will break
If you still love me, I need to know

So be my shelter from the storm
And take me back where it's safe and warm
And let me feel your touch of grace

I know how much of a fool I've been
I'm praying for the chance to come back again
I'm coming home, back to where we began
The road is long, but I can get back again
Divided we fall, but together we stand
I'm coming home

Yeah yeah I'm coming home, ooh
I'm coming home and I'm not connection torn
Yeah yeah yeah, ooh
I'm coming home, ooh

I'm coming home, back to where we begain
The road is long, but I can get back again
Divided we fall, but together we stand
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
I'm coming home
