Moment That You Came

Wide Mouth Mason

Bested by the worst of you I'm losing my thirst for you again But I don't mind Is all this empty clamour simply more than you can stand or is it me? Was I so blind? The moment that you came You tried to get away You're the first to leave today but it's early now Anyhow... All you were to me And all it could have been I'll forget about you thanks for dropping in All the dented heads and broken beds are nearly dead inside my brain And it's alright All the games I play to keep my mind off what's at stake have me buying it But I'm cheating I know you probably wanted me to cry But it's a good a time as any for goodbye Bested by the worst of you I'm losing to my thirst for you again And your drunkenness Is all this empty clamour more than you had planned on taking in I can sympathize
