One Wing

We once belonged to a bird Who cast his shadow on this world You were a blessing and I was a curse I did my best not to make things worse for you

It isn't true, I always knew this would be our fate This is what happens when we separate This is happens, all dead weight, eventually

We may as well be made of stone We can't be flown

One wing will never fly Neither yours nor mine I fear we can only wave goodbye

One wing will never ever fly Neither yours nor mine One wing will never ever fly, dear Neither yours nor mine I fear we can only wave goodbye

One wing will never ever fly, dear Neither yours nor mine I fear we can only wave goodbye
