

Shot In The Arm

Wilco

Your pillow wept
You covered your eyes
And you finally slept
While the sun caught fire

You've changed

We fell in love
We walked along
Down by the sea

You followed me down
We fell again
Into the sea

You've changed
Oh, you've changed

Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm
Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm
Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm
Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm
Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm
Maybe all I need is a shot in the arm

Something in my veins, bloodier than blood
Something in my veins, bloodier than blood
Something in my veins, bloodier than blood
Something in my veins, bloodier than blood

The ashtray says
You were up all night
When you went to bed
With your darkest mind

You've changed
Oh, you've changed

What you once were isn't what you want to be anymore
