

Contagious

Wild Orchid

Aching shaking suffocating falling to my knees, Feeling sensing knowing something's taking over me
A parasite deep inside what a ride come and eat my soul, inviting invading no prior warning it's so controlling dying to live in this contagious state there's no escaping something so elating trying to breathe in t his contagious state Screaming moaning groaning fainting catch me when I fall, Floating flying diving thriving living off the wall,
Thrill me with the chill that's spilling down my spine,
Inviting invading Repeat chorus
