

Blue

Will Young

I think you're beautiful
Just thought id let you know
If you were mine id never hide you

So if you hear this song
You'll want to sing along
Don't let that world around ya stop you

Don't even notice when the sun starts shining
You've got a smile, but you keep it inside

You're so blue
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain

You're so blue
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain

You're so Blue
You're so Blue

You just can't let it go
And everybody knows
You're only fighting with yourself, dear

We live a little life
Then everybody dies
Don't waste a second of your time here

Don't even notice when the sun starts shining
You've got a smile, but you keep it inside

You're so blue
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain

You're so blue
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain

You're so Blue
You're so Blue

So darling can't you see
That your exactly who you're meant to be
And I've been thinking you belong with me
Oh I've been thinking you belong with me

You're so blue
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain
You soak up all of the rain

You're so blue
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain
You're just a heart full of pain

You're so Blue
You're so Blue
