Personal Thunder

Everything I Own, Everything I give, Nothing to say, Oh I didn't mean it Why'd I wanna say it again? I didn't say it again

It's always the way That I assume everything, Now I wear a differnet hat Every morning as I get up And say it to mysel Who will you beat on today?

Do you feel Like Do you feel like Waiting on Is it right or is it wrong?

I'm falling these days My personal thunder It's tripping me down Locked in a cage But I wont surrender

It's been at least an hour And I'm out already Pacing the room Turn on my heels Wont look in the mirror anymore Look at my face anymore Smelling the Fresh air And it's Blow, Blowing in my face On the street my hair is free It's the first time that I can truely breath The first time that I can truely breath

I'm falling these days My personal thunder It's tripping me down Locked in a cage But I wont surrender

I'm falling these days My personal thunder It's tripping me down Locked in a cage But I wont surrender

And I don't think that I can find any answers To these questions In my way I would choose a face that works for me All of the time All of the time

Time Now Down

Will Young

I'm falling these days My personal thunder It's tripping me down Locked in a cage But I wont surrender

I'm falling these days My personal thunder It's tripping me down Locked in a cage But I wont surrender I wont surrender I wont surrender I wont surrender
