

Soliloquy

William Control

Oh Lord, I've tried to cut away
All the cancer that lives within my skin and bones
Oh my, how hard it's been to live
Without you by my side
In this bed across the world, across the world

Loss, I've lived in tragedy
I've given everything, my soliloquy
Loss, my savage will to live
My one last chance to give this soliloquy

This time, how calm before the storm
The sunsets and our hearts grow very, very cold
This life, how much longer can I wait?
If money was my object
I'd bore you with a subject involving love
Involving love

Loss, I've lived in tragedy
I've given everything, my soliloquy
Loss, my savage will to live
Just one last chance to give this soliloquy
