

Fiddlin' Around

Willie Nelson

She always follows me from town to town
At least her memories follow me around
Whenever I clear my mind so she can see
I feel her love come rushing into me

And I know that I will never be alone
It looks as though her memory's bound to haunt
And I know my love will always stay in bounds
With her memory always following me around

Following me around, following me around
Following me around, following me around
And I know my love will always stay in bounds
With her memory always following me around

Following me around, following me around
Following me around, following me around
And I know my love will always stay in bounds
With her memory always following me around
With her memory always following me around
