You Remain

Willie Nelson

What do you do with the sands of time
When they carve out lines around your eyes?
I can close my fist up good and tight
But I can't hold back the sands of time

What do you do with a memory
That just hangs around and stares at me?
I can tear that frame down off the wall
But it won't erase the things I saw

Night and day Night and day You remain You remain

What do you do with old regrets? There's a box full undernearth the bed Just close enough not to forget But what do you do with old regrets?

There's old house key in a kitchen drawer To the door I can't unlock no more Sometimes I hold that key real tight But what do you do after goodbye

Night and day Night and day You remain You remain

Night and day Night and day You remain You remain
