

Black Rain

Winterborn

Here we are, us humankind
We live in the remains of this world we ripped apart
We unleashed a thousand suns
Can't turn back time, it's too late to be sorry

Clouds are stained, and rusted are the towers
Once stood tall, and dust covers the sun

No more birds left to fly
Black rain colours the sky
We've seen the last ray of light
Tomorrow's buried alive - black rain is falling

Gust of wind on leafless trees
All that once lived on this Earth, now disappears
On that day, we sealed our fate
We went too far, now the whole world is gone

Seasons lost, and poisoned are the waters
Once so pure and bright, shrouded in grey

No more birds left to fly
Black rain colours the sky
We've seen the last ray of light
Tomorrow's buried alive - black rain is falling

No more birds left to fly
Black rain colours the sky
We've seen the last ray of light
Tomorrow's buried alive - buried alive