

Emptiness inside

Winterborn

In the dark lonely room, in shadows I'm hiding
The grief I feel inside, no words can tell
All alone, I'm staring out the window
My guiding star doesn't shine no more, after you've been gone

No love lost, forever I'll remember
Fate took you away, the light of my life
Now nothing can feel like you were here beside me
My guiding star doesn't shine no more

Our love's been sacrificed
She's here no more, my pride
Never a chance to share the love
Two souls as one, now torn apart
All the angels will cry, it's raining in heaven tonight

I would give anything to turn back the hands of time
That the things would be just the way they used to be before
Cause without you, this room feels so empty
I wonder where you are, where are you now

Our love's been sacrificed
She's here no more, my pride
Never a chance to share the love
Two souls as one, now torn apart
All the angels will cry, it's raining in heaven tonight