

Too Many Strangers

Wipers

There's too many strangers
All along the wavering miles
There's too many strangers
On the mule train
You can't remember what they said
There's too many strange things
I can stray so far
There's too many strangers
I can't patronize your smile
I can't patronize your style
I can't patronize your life