

The Sound Of The End

Wisdom In Chains

This is the sound of the end. it's like a crushing destruction, smashing everything in sight and it's coming for you, it's gonna hold you, embrace you, squeeze you tight around the neck till you can't breathe no more. this is the sound of the end. There will be no shelter. no hiding, you can pray to god for help but he's not listening to you. it'll be too late for redemption just accept the fate that we create, . it's all that we can do this is the sound of the end
