

Somewhere Alone

Wisdom

Long before I came into this world
All have heard the fortune-teller's word
Of a lone man in the prophecy
He was me, the Man of Destiny

When I look around it's a no man's land
Blood is everywhere, I stand

Somewhere alone far from my home
God from the high heavens saved my soul
Somewhere alone down to the bone
Hardly alive anymore

Bodies lying all over the ground
Mothers crying, death is all around
I am just a puppet on a string
Fighting for the power of a king

I don't wanna fight to the end of time
Obey like a fool and die

Maybe I was born to kill
Cause misery and death
Maybe I was made to be
Part of a master plan
